*The following is taken from the Brother Sam's reference book,
The God Manual...*

I have written many books and Bible college manuals in my 33 years in the ministry, but none have been more exciting, enlightening, and as precious as this one. I originally had no intention of writing a book about God. The subject is too vast, too unsearchable, and frankly I didn't think anyone would be interested in it, including myself. I assumed everybody that I knew, had pastored, who were fellow ministers, and brothers and sisters in Christ knew about God, at least enough in a general and foundational way. As such, I originally thought this book would seem foolish or too simplistic or too elementary. It has been said of me in some circles that I do teach a rather deep message of revelational, foundational, and present truth, so for me to take it upon myself to teach about God Himself, just never entered into my mind. I will however tell you now how this book came about.

I have been writing it seems nonstop for the last 10 years because I have started 4 Bible Schools and have apostolic authority over them. Because of this responsibility, I've been churning out material constantly. However I had just finished a very lengthy, time consuming, and exhaustively studied book on "Mystery Babylon". Believe me, when I was finished with that I thought I deserved a rest, especially since right before that book I had written on “the Ashes of the Red Heifer” and a very voluminous book on “the Glory of God”, all the while pastoring a local church, overseeing 4 Bible colleges, mentoring and being a father to many, many disciples around the world, not including being a husband and father of four growing children. When I finished the book on Babylon, I was spent, tired, weary, and completely exhausted. I’ve been teaching the Scriptures daily, morning and evening, since 1977. I truly thought it was time for a much needed break.

So after finishing the book on “Mystery Babylon”, I was waiting on the Lord one day, just worshipping and adoring Him, and thanking Him for all His blessings, when, He spoke so clearly I was actually stunned. The Lord said to me, “Son, my people do not know me. They know what their pastor says about me or what their parents have said, or their denomination or association have said about me, but I want them to know what my Word says that I am. I want them, when they pray, when they worship, or even just think about me, to have a true, pure, and Scriptural image of who and what I am, to them and my creation. Sadly son, they don’t know me, but because the days ahead will be tumultuous at best. They need to have a true Biblical knowledge of me to counteract the false doctrine and the error that is being taught about me.” And then He said, “I want you to call it the God Manual”, and that was it.

As I sat dumbfounded in fifteen minutes, He gave me over 100 things He wanted me to teach about Him. If it had not been for the clarity and firmness of His voice, and the overshadowing anointing of glory that was resting upon me, I might have dismissed it. He, however, made sure I didn’t. So for over a year now, and some 215 messages on CD, I have labored to obey God. I’ve only had one thing in mind this whole time that I would exhaustively search out the Scriptures about every attribute and characteristic of God that He spoke to me, so His people wouldn’t have to, it would be there for them, written on the pages of this book. Yes, it took thousands of hours of study and hundreds more in teaching these principles, but as I finish it, I find I’m more refreshed than ever. In every meeting and teaching, it was as if the Shekinah cloud of glory enveloped us. It seemed that God wasn’t just teaching us knowledge, truth, or revelation, but with every message He was there in a majestic, magnificent way to literally impart these truths to our hearts and lives.

I can see now why this book is so needed, what with all the scandal and confusion that is running rampant in the body of Christ. The time for looking only to men is over. We should not be standing in another man's revelation, but in our own that we have gleaned from the Scriptures. These are the last days and there is great error being taught as well as false doctrine, with too much emphasis on experience and not much emphasis on Biblical foundations and sound judgment. I criticize no one. I have no stones to throw at anyone, but it doesn't take a genius to figure out that this is the Laodicean church age, and while all we hear on the airwaves is how we can be "rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing" (Revelation 3:17). The truth is, as Jesus responded, we are "wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked". Simply ask yourself if this is not the truth! It is time to return to sound doctrine, laying Biblical foundations in people's lives. It is time for promoting a hunger for studying and loving the Word of God as well as experiencing the joy of the Holy Ghost, deep intense worship, and the study of the prophetic. Why can't we have all these? It has been said, all Spirit you blow up and all Word you dry up, but with the combination of the two, you grow up. Remember, "A false balance is abomination to the LORD: but a just weight is his delight" (Proverbs 11:1).

That is why this book was written, under a command from God Himself. Oh, how He wants His people to know Him intimately. Oh how He longs for deep fellowship with them. Oh, how He wants to release His end time power and glory to His people, but they must have a proper foundation for this to happen. The children of Israel were content with "His acts" only, but "Moses knew His ways." You can have both if you know and understand who He is, what His eternal purpose is, and what His glorious characteristics are. If we return to Him and His Word, perhaps we just might become that last great army of the Lord, grown up into His image, understanding His power and purpose, and by doing so, vindicate the great and precious name of Jesus on this earth. Boy, then we will truly have all the spiritual experiences we could want as well as demonstrate His power and image to the earth.

Finally, I just simply love Jesus. I love His Word. I love His manifest presence, His glory, His power, and I love to watch Him heal, deliver, and make people free. But I also want to know Him intimately, and I want to desire to know Him and His ways. So I invite you to join me on a journey of learning about your God, returning to your first love. Believe me, once these revelations become real to you, you will never be the same. I know my life has been forever changed by writing this book, my worship has increased, holiness is not an unattainable thing anymore. Walking in the glory is so much easier, and just abiding in Him became a passion.

My heart's prayer is that this book will do the same to you and that the world will once again see the real Jesus walking the earth, in His many-membered sons, who aren't arrogant or flashy, puffed up, and unreachable and untouchable, but they will be as the Scriptures declare a humble, loving, meek, serving people, who care more about God than they do their own ministry, who truly love God's sheep, and are willing to become vulnerable that they might help others. I leave you with the Master's own Words found in Matthew 11:28-29, "<sup>28</sup>Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. <sup>29</sup>Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls." May God give you His grace to accomplish it.
